Friendship is . . .

Friendship is the sun shining through the trees, forming patterns underneath —

*sunshine of familiar faces everywhere you go; sunshine of a friendly “hi” when you are hurrying to class;
sunshine of many friends with many things in common.*

Friendship is dandelions, yellow and white, changing and spreading, covering fields with white fluff —

dandelions when a new friend is made; dandelions when friendship changes and becomes lighter and freer.

Friendship is a summer rain, clearing the air, freshening the trees and grass, falling firmly and softly —

rain when friendship runs deep, steady, and true, lasting forever.

Friendship is the sky when the storm clouds separate to reveal a glorious blue —

the sky when misunderstandings clear up and the friendship is strengthened to form a stronger bond.

Friendship is an explosion, bright and powerful — an explosion of strength, an explosion of life.

Scared Saracins ran for the locker room as Hart celebrated an overwhelming victory of 20 to 0. That night the spirit was high and Hart showed Hoover what it takes. With the games against Agoura, Crescenta Valley, Burbank, Blair and Glendale, Hart fought vigorously for another win.

With a strong defense Hart's opponents held back the mighty Indians. Burroughs defeated the Hart team with a 36 point lead until the last quarter. Then Ken Long blasted thru for a touchdown to make the score 36 to 6.

The Hoover game was outstanding. In the first quarter the Indians were in the lead with six points. Soon after that the Tornadoes came on strong with a whirling wind and scored four touchdowns leaving Hart four points behind at the final gun.

Pigskinners

Practice, teamwork, power, and more practice are the keys to a successful football season. Although the 1973 season was not a winning one for the Indians, they did make a good showing for their first year in the strong Foothill League.

The change in leagues lead to stiffer competition, but Hart's pig skimmers spent many long hard hours in practice to live up to the demand. The final combination of individual effort and teamwork made it possible for Hart to stand proud, though not number one, in the league.

in their never-ending battle of football. The junior varsity football team, composed of juniors and outstanding sophomores, exhausted their energy to keep their standings high in the Foothill League. Ending their season with a four win, three loss record, quarterbacks Bob Coveney and Hoss Stamper threw great passes for the team.

Quick thinking and fast moving were the two main items that helped Hart's sophomore football team win seven out of nine games. There were many exceptional plays that were made by Mark Simmons, Rick Curasi, and Greg Thon on defense and Casey Hatton, Tim Knights, Keno Shaw, and Dave Duncan on offense. Exceptional sophomores were tackle Mike Herrington and halfback Mark Nocciolo. Top players of the junior class were center Mike Fisher, linebacker Henry Franco and split-end Monty Solis.

Coach Alan Hansen did an unsurpassed job in arranging and working with the team. He also strove to build team spirit.

Two Indian maids chased braves over hills and through fields. For the first time, two of Hart's fleet-footed girls ran with the cross country team. These two girls were Suzy Leathers and Melinda Reiber.

Mr. Grande, the cross country coach, had the pleasure of coaching many excellent runners this year. Last year Richard Burns set the record time for Hart's two mile cross country course, and this year Tom Cusick, who was voted the most outstanding runner and who was also the varsity team captain, came within twelve seconds of that record.

Some of the other excellent runners were Walt Van Der Heyden, most inspirational runner, Bill Mentor, most improved; and Brian Bishop was awarded a trophy for being the scholar athlete. The sophomore team did so well that all of them were awarded junior varsity letters, except for one, their team captain, Craig Rousseau, who received a varsity letter for being the most outstanding sophomore runner. All three teams got together and decided that Rose Martinez would be their sweetheart.

Wet and wild practices were held every day after school at the Newhall pool for Hart's first season of Water polo. They were members of the Marmonte League and three of the boys made the All Marmonte League team. These boys were Marty Kutyllo, John Schmidt, and Jay Janus. Other awards went to Marty Kutyllo, who won the "Algae Man" award for being the funkiest guy on the team. Brian Grade won the Scholar Athlete award for attaining the highest academic record while participating in water polo. Two awards, Most Improved Player and Highest Point Scorer, went to John Schmidt for scoring 12 out of 19 attempts. The team did quite well considering that they were a first year team competing in a well established league.

Legal serves and screens were learned by some of the Volleyball members as Mrs. Flaherty took five of the girls to a volleyball convention in Carpinteria last summer. Under the direction of Mrs. Flaherty the Varsity and J.V.'s finished with a 5-3 season. The girls got off to a good start by coming from behind to defeat Quartz Hill. In every league contest Varsity and J.V.'s had identical win-loss records. Junior Varsity tied for first place in the post season tournament at Canyon High School. Varsity pulled out a second place, losing only to Canyon. Next year will see a more experienced and seasoned team, and undoubtedly — a winning one.

Grappling their way to an 8 win, 2 loss record and a strong showing in numerous tournaments, Hart's 1973-74 wrestlers put together a super season under the direction of Coach Joe Hall. Wrestling in a CIF free lance league composed of 15 schools, Hart's mat men entered only varsity competition. All JV competitors forfeited their matches and wrestled only for exhibition due to the fact that only four were in that class.

Four wrestlers made outstanding showings, taking first places in league finals. They were Jim Luster, 20 wins, 4 losses, 13 pins; Jim Mayo, 24 wins, 7 losses, 1 tie, 11 pins; Jesse Montemayor, 15 wins, 6 losses, 7 pins; and Rod Simmons, 19 wins, 7 losses, 1 tie, 9 pins. Rod went on to compete in the State level competition. Jim Luster also received the Most Outstanding Wrestler award.

Speed, incentive accuracy and efficiency kept the Varsity Basketball team on the ball this year winning ten out of twenty-four games. Outstanding performances were made by Lonny Bringham, Most Valuable Player Award, Dave Tanner, Most Inspirational Player and Scholar-Athlete Award, Paul Skophammer, Rebounder Award, Mark Planck, Most Field Goal Percentage and Most Free Throw Percentage, and Mike Montgomery, Most Improved.

Coach Fran Wrage, who spent many of his hours outside of class time yelling and training his team, did an excellent job trying to keep up the confidence of the players throughout the 1973-74 season.

Up, over, and in was the cry of the Junior Varsity hoopsters for the 1974 basketball season. Team unity, under the direction of Coach Fred Crummet, led to the true meaning of the old saying "It doesn't matter whether you win or lose, but how you play the game." With the skills obtained this year through their games and tournaments next year's Varsity team should have a great season with the addition of these fine players.

Battle scars

by the sophomore and the sophomore reserve squads this year. With the change in league, these two teams replaced the earlier ones of Bee and Cee.

The 1973-74 school year brought many new things for these teams. First was the increased competition with the switch to the Foothill League. Long hours of practice were the antidote prescribed by the Indian coaches.

New to the school was Mr. John Clark, who took the sophomore team under his wing and worked with them to develop the type of team work necessary to win on the courts.

Mr. John Garner, last year's Cee coach, worked with the sophomore reserve squad to put polish on their action and increase maneuverability and all around basketball skills.

Hart Girls basketball team won the Desert Valley League Championship this year under the direction of Mrs. Evie Gilmore and Miss Cheryl Uhey. The girls participated in many tournaments and brought home trophies each time.

The Varsity team played a total of 12 games with only 2 losses. Co-recipient of the award for most valuable player were Maggan Karlsson and Ileana Companeitz, both girls were also selected as all-stars for the league team.

The Junior Varsity team won all but 2 of their 10 games. Junior Varsity team play was led into high scoring by Donna Annanie and Tami DeMars.

The team sweetheart this year was Rick Madrid who was formally presented at the team banquet that was held at the Lions Room on April 27, 1974.

With the great amount of experience gained by the girls on the Varsity and J.V. teams who are returning next year, a fantastic season is looked forward to.

Mermaids invaded swimming pool and locker rooms this year as, for the first time, girls were allowed to participate on the swim team. Mr. Dennis Spare was the weather-beaten coach who drilled, persuaded and perhaps even hollered to keep the team cooperating. Since last year's unit was powerful and strong, Mr. Spare divided his group and was rewarded with two 4 man medley relay teams. They were the 200 Relay Team consisting of: Jay Janus, Jim Neale, Marty Kutlylo, and Jeff LePage. The 400 Free Style Relay Team included: Jeff LePage, Jay Janus, Brian Grade, and Mike Butler.

The Swim Team Banquet was held on Thursday, May 2 in the cafeteria. Films and pictures of the group were provided by Coach Spare to entertain parents and friends. Crowd pleasing awards were given to sophomore, junior varsity and varsity teams.

Recipients of these awards were: Most Inspirational Swimmers — John Chapman Schmidt, Vicki Heppner, and Ron Miranda; Scholar Athletes — Brian Grade, Richard Siler and Susan Henley; Most Valuable Player Awards — Marty Kutlylo, Jeanne Livingston and Gail Bingham; Most Improved Players were — Jeff LePage, Richard Siler and John Kettenburg, otherwise known as "The Texas Waterbug." The highlight of the entire night was the presentation of the award of Most Outstanding Team Swimmer to Jay Janus.

made up the running part of the track meets for the Indians. Under the coaching of Mr. Jim Droz, and Mr. John Clarke boys with skills in the various field events gathered together and worked to form a unified team.

Coach Droz, new to the school, stressed long hard practices as a major way to develop skill, accuracy, and stamina needed for a winning team. Afternoons would find the track area full of boys exercising, warming up, and working on special skill areas with the help of both coaches.

A season marked by numerous wins found several Indians making it to the CIF playoffs. They included John McKinzey, Phil Muhl, and Tom Cusick.

Clubs and carts represented Hart's golf team this year as they moved from hole to hole and course to course throughout the season. A 12 win, 3 loss record was achieved as a result of the efforts of the team members under the coaching of Mr. Henson and Mr. Bartak.

Tremendous potential was present on the team in the form of Pete Gillis, who shot a 75, and Kirk Denver. Dave Read and Jon Merambel were the only seniors on the team.

The team included two transfers, both juniors. They were John Milford, who scored a 77 over the difficult Valencia Golf Course, and did it with a cast on his right hand; and Tom Costello who also shot in the 70's.

Returning letterman John Webber gained fame for making a hole-in-one on the Number 5 hole at Valencia.

As in the past, the golf team shared the spotlight with the other spring sports, notably track, but Indian spirit and support was big enough to aid all events in chalking up nice records for Hart High.

Forehand backhand and overhand serves were an integral part of the lives of the Junior Varsity and Varsity Boys Tennis team members as they prepared for their 1974 season. This year's team had very few wins in the new league but the boys continued to keep up their spirit with the aid of statisticians Patty Bond and Victoria Austin. Many helpful techniques were taught under the direction of Ms. Joanne Santarsiere who will leave her position to Miss Rochelle Thomas next year.

Victory a la feminine flair, flourished daily from Hart's busy tennis courts. The tennis team made a spectacular entrance into girls athletics by attaining the title of Desert League Champions. Ms. JoAnne Santarsiere, coach for these diligent and dedicated females, was greatly pleased and took much pride in the team's success and enthusiasm.

Each member spent many hours practicing, however, their work merited victory in the end. An end-of-the-season banquet was held in the cafeteria. Girls honored were: Robin Swindall, Most Valuable Player; Illeana Compaheitz, Record Season Score; and Heidi Steinman, Most Inspirational. Perhaps, most outstanding was the presentation of the Girls Tennis Sweetheart, Mr. Rick McKinley.

Cowboys stood in awe as Hart Indians went all the way to the C.I.F. finals this year. During the 1974 season the Varsity Indians were victorious 9 times with only 1 tie and 1 loss to put them into the C.I.F. playoffs. Once at the finals the war party was not as victorious as had been anticipated however, they gained the experience of playing against California's best high school teams and won the right to be called one of the best teams around. Many thanks go to Coach Murray who continued to push the boys through vigorous workouts so that they could attain this high degree of excellence.

were the general requirements for this year's Junior Varsity Baseball Team. Mr. Doug Worley was the coach that led the team to several outstanding victories. Smashing victory of 40-2 ended the season for the girls softball team, under the direction of Mrs. Coleen Flaherty. Though they did not go to the CIF finals, they had an outstanding record of 6 wins and 4 losses. The JV team came out in first place in the Desert Valley League. Donna Annanie, third base; and Marla Johnson, center field both showed excellent performances throughout the season. On the varsity team outstanding performances were given by Lori Amendt, pitcher; and Kathy Barrick, right field. Michelle Woods, catcher, showed a new form of strategy by dropping the ball constantly so runners would advance and in turn they would be tagged out.

The Life

Understanding people, cultures, and inter-state relationships were the basic goals of the American Field Service's foreign exchange student program and the Boys' and Girls' State programs.

For thirteen years Hart High has been fortunate enough to participate in these programs. Last year Marti West spent the summer in El Salvador, Sonsonate, Central America, living with the Mejia family.

In September, Margot Flores from Chile and Margaretha Karlsson from Sweden joined the Whitby and Forst families to learn first-hand of the American life style.

Each year Hart sends one boy and one girl to the Boys' and Girls' State programs. This year Dave Tanner went to Sacramento and Lisa Neely to Squaw Valley.

Concerning his visit there Dave Tanner stated, "It was a good experience." His role was Deputy Fire Chief. While he was there he won a swimming championship.

"It was educational", was Lisa Neely's summary of her week as a Party Platform member.

Invigorating pep that inspired reward was the key to Hart's showcase of spirit. Launching the festivities was the culminating beat of the Pep Band. They were joined by the sparkling performances of the pep squad.

Amidst the blaze of showey routines and exhilarating music the gym was quieted for the presentation of awards and pep talks by coaches and team captains.

Soon however, laughter was heard throughout the gym as the Clod Squad emerged. These rather shapely 1950's cheerleaders always provided humor and were a great assist to the rallies.

Inter-Class Competition proved to be the climax. Here the classes contended for the coveted Tomahawk — the symbol of spirit. Regardless of the decision, thunderous applause was released by the victorious class.

Some of the highlights throughout the season were the crowning of football and cross country captains, the faculty band, and the delightful antics of the drill team. Also arousing laughter, was the naming of the wooden Indian, Chief Tommy Hawk.

A whirlwind of glamour and harmony would describe the emotions felt within the students during Homecoming Week. The leader of the festive parade that night was Grand Marshall Cecil Sims, who wrote the Hart High Alma Mater. He returned to the 1973 Homecoming to admire the procession of radiant princesses and watch the outstanding performances of Hart High's band, Drill Team, and football team.

Afterwards, the traditional Homecoming Dance was sponsored by the extravagant Junior Class, at which Queen Elise Baker and her court were honored. The mood was one of exuberance, despite the fact that both football teams were defeated.

Indians hung ten during Homecoming Week as they dressed to the theme of the Surfing Sixties. This was just one of the many fun-filled homecoming activities. All three classes exhibited outstanding spirit for the 1973 Homecoming. Seniors, however, surpassed themselves as they captured the Spirit Hart, won ICC at the Homecoming Rally, and entered a magnificent float to culminate their float competition.

Homecoming activities proved to be excellent pride motivators. Among them were a vibrant bonfire on campus followed by a rollicking car rally, a tug-o-war from which the seniors emerged all-powerful, and the traditional signing of the drum by seniors.

Hart's 1973 Homecoming, "Here's A Part Of Our Hart", was treasured by all spectators, but the real satisfaction lay in the eyes of the workers who could, at last, behold their labors in full glamour and splendor.

Chaos entered Hart High's auditorium

as the fall drama "You Can't Take It With You," graced the stage with a mood of comical farce, romance, and delightful conflict.

The play involves two young lovers, Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby (Vicki Finsilver and Jeff Mallory) and their humorously different families.

Alice's family would be considered by most people, crazy and nutty, while Tony comes from a typical, straight-laced, conservative family. The fun really soars into action when the two families collide.

Other members in the cast were Martin Vanderhoff, "Grandpa" (Jeff Moir) who is wise and well-seasoned. Penny and Paul Sycamore (Pam Hartman and Marshall Commons) and Alice's parents. Paul and Mr. DePinna (Larry Roberts) fired up the performance with their toys of deafening power. The musician in the family was Ed Carmichael (Steven Smith) who was Alice's brother-in-law.

Alice's sister, Essie Carmichael, (Susan Word) had been dancing for eight years to the bells of Ed's xylophone, while Essie's Russian dancing teacher (Rick Whiteley) confides in Grandpa about Essie's dancing, "SHE STINKS," as does everything else Mr. Kolenkov sees.

The absent-minded Swedish maid and her southern boyfriend, Sonja and Donald (Jayne Walden and Jeff Friedman) added flavor to the play.

There was a lot of excitement when a tax-collector, Wilbur C. Henderson, (Russ Hamon) tried to collect twenty-four years back income taxes and blew his lid. Grandpa refused to pay because "he didn't believe in it."

for the 1974 TBA presentation. "To Be Announced," one of the musical highlights of the year, was performed to standing room only audiences on December 2 and 3. The Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors and Vocal Ensemble presented a program of varied pop tunes such as "Smoke On the Water," "Delta Dawn," "Killing Me Softly," and "Mack Arthur Park."

Mr. Lew White, trombone player and MC, was accompanied by Mr. Larry Thornton on the trumpet. Mr. White introduced the performers during the concert. Some of them were his twin, Dan Selmsler; Rick Madrid, who was questioned as to which girl made his shirt; and young Dave Fender, whose voice has not yet had time to change.

The drum duel between Frank Sarro and Chuck Kirk thrilled the audience. At one point as they were battling it out on the drums, Frank as well as his cymbals were knocked over which added to the relaxed nightclub atmosphere.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Babko and Mr. Larry Thornton the evening proved a delight to all those who attended.

Snowflakes, candy canes, and a glowing Christmas tree gave a Winter Wonderland atmosphere in the 1973 Winter Formal. The theme was carried out with many clever decorations, designed by members of Girls League, which transformed the cafeteria into a most enjoyable wonderland.

Leaf River provided dance music for the 50 couples attending. Refreshments were served by Sheryl Gorrindo, Diana Shirey, and Carol Peralta of Girls League. The chaperones, Ms. Ronni Melnikoff and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Lovette, also enjoyed the magical Christmas mood of the evening.

For the first time there was no queen or court to preside over the gala dance. Girls League based this change on the lower degree of participation. However, the evening of music, dancing, and romance passed smoothly into the memories of all concerned.

Christmas cheer was spread by the choruses and orchestral groups in the Christmas Concert on the Tuesday night before the day St. Nick was to arrive. Two tenth grade solos were performed by Sandy Hemminger and Lori Kister. A graduate from Hart, Jeff Hughes, came back to accompany on the piano. Bonnie Welch and Lynn Johnson played a duet on the violin while Chris Wullschleger accompanied on the piano. Once again the announcers were Mr. Larry Thorton and Mr. Bob Babko. The closing number, in which the concert choir was accompanied by the orchestra, was composed of two songs from the "Messiah", but the highlight of this holiday season show was when Rick Madrid came out of the Concert Choir to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

Thrills, skills, cheers, tears, and fears filled the gym as the Indians met the Falcons of Crescenta Valley for Hart's Basketball Homecoming game.

Traditionally known as Hoop-de-la and sponsored by Spirit Squad, the basketball homecoming was one of the highlights of the season. The Drill Team and Pep Band added enthusiasm to an already action packed evening.

At half time Susan Moreland officially crowned Debbie Nemback, senior, Hoop-de-la Queen. Sandy Kraus, junior, and Robin Mowery, sophomore, were princesses.

Hart's hoopsters fought a long hard battle, but when the clock ran out at the end of the fourth period the Falcons were ahead. Not to be daunted by defeat, the Indians culminated Hoop-de-la with a dance in the Cafeteria.

Bright lights, music, and an appreciative audience made the evening of the Winter Concert enjoyable for all concerned. A formal performance by the instrumental and vocal music groups, the Winter Concert is an annual event at Hart High.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Larry Thornton and Mr. Robert Babko, a program of varied styles of music was put together for the listening pleasure of all who attended.

In an area somewhat removed from the major entertainment centers of Los Angeles, events of this sort are looked forward to by the community as well as the staff and students.

Students of the various music classes work hard all year and await a change to prove their skill, show their talents, and share their music with others.

Melodious sounds for a late spring evening filled the auditorium June 5 as Strictly Instrumental IV was presented. A musical program given by the instrumental music groups, under the direction of Mr. Larry Thornton, Strictly Instrumental gives the students, parents, and interested friends an opportunity to hear representative samplings of the groups' work.

The groups participating in the evening included: the Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors, the Indian Concert Band, the Hart Symphonette, and the Braves Stage Band. All of these groups perform throughout the year, usually as support, at a wide variety of events.

This, however, is a chance for their musical skills to be displayed to their fullest. The scope of numbers presented ranged from the Original Jazz Suite, to Embraceable You to Sinfonia in B Flat. Many outstanding students were given the opportunity of soloing in some of the arrangements.

Refreshments were available, courtesy of the Hart Instrumental Boosters, a group of concerned supporters which has worked hard during the year to give backing, of all kinds, to the instrumental music groups.

The highlight of the evening for the students and proud parents was the presentation of the awards. The Outstanding Bandsmen Award went to Mike Coyle, percussion, and Linda Christophersen, flute. The Outstanding Hart Symphonette Award was given to Bonnie Welch, alto clarinet. Mark Myers, saxophone, was presented with the Outstanding Chieftain Award.

“Sunshine On My Shoulders” and “Day By Day”

were just two of the more popular numbers performed by the various vocal groups at the annual Spring Concert. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Babko, the Concert Choir, Advanced Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Vocal Ensemble proved that they were not only experts in the performance of contemporary pieces, but also classical selections.

Rick Whiteley and Heather Tachernisch were featured soloists for Sunshine On My Shoulders and Day By Day, respectively.

Destruction and years of war invaded the Hart stage when the spring play "Trojan Women" was presented. This dramatic piece, written over two thousand years ago by Euripedes, adapted into French by Jean-Paul Satre, and translated into English by Ronald Duncan, was directed by Mr. James Seely.

The play opens with a dark setting as it remains through most part, while Poseidon (Steve Smith) tells how his niece Pallas Athen Athene (Janet Wade) and another goddess had joined forces to destroy his city of Troy. He is ready to give up when confronted by Athene, who persuades him to help her gain vengeance against the Greeks.

After they leave, Hecuba (Jeanne Fullerton) the queen of Troy, and her chorus relate their sorrow and fear. Talthbios (Jeff Friedman) the Greek herald comes in and tells the women that they are to become slaves, with one exception, Hecuba's daughter, Cassandra (Lori Bysh).

A beautiful sunrise brings on the entrance of King Menelaus (Rick Whiteley) the conqueror of Troy, who has come to get Helen (Janis Bowman) the cause of the ten year war. He talks to Hecuba before he encounters Helen. Both of them would like to see Helen put to death. However, with the first look at Helen he forgives her.

That afternoon Talthbios informs Hecuba and his daughter-in-law Andromeda (Darla Goudey) that the Greek Assembly decided not to spare the life of the only male heir to the Trojan throne.

Exotic birds, tropical atmosphere, waterfalls, and a little hocus pocus would describe "Only the Beginning", the junior and senior prom, held at Busch Gardens on April 5, 1974. Boat rides, magic shows, dancing to the Town Criers, and a New York steak dinner added to the enjoyable events of the evening.

One of the highlights of the evening was the crowning of Brian Grade and Rhena Baker as king and queen. Their court included Dan Selmser, Dave Tanner, Lonny Bringham, Kevin Ellis, Elise Baker, Sue See, Lisa Neely, and Kari Hansen.

The mystery of the evening was a chauffeur driven limousine parked by the gate at the close of the prom. About 200 spectators stood around the car waiting to see the departure of Paul Heinzman and his date Mickey Campbell.

The chaperones for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bair, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hannigan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Port, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sherriett, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sholl.

Silly somethings marked Spring's Sprolic as Hart's Indians took advantage of Spring Fever to be fun loving and nutty. First came White's Rhythm Boys on Monday who provide jazz and other sounds on the senior lawn. The group consisted of Mr. Lew White, Mr. Larry Thornton, and Mr. Bob Babko.

Socks were the thing at the sock hop on Tuesday in the Boys Gym. Wednesday saw interclass competition in a series of special games on the field. Included were, tug-o-war, sack races, and wheel barrow races.

Thursday the auction of teachers, sponsored by AFS, was held on the senior lawn. Mr. Fred Aldrich brought in an all-time high bid of $60.

Friday was Dogpatch Day, with students dressing like Daisy Mae, Pappy, or other such characters. That night the annual Sakie Hawkins dance was held.

Ridiculous skits caused uproarious laughter from the audience when Hartburns '74 found its way onto the Hart stage.

The opening song was "Carnival 9" by Emerson, Lake, and Palmer. The words "come and see the show" seemed appropriate for the theme. Kung in Pu, Divorce Game, Gone With the Birds, and Lets Make a Dope Deal were just a few of the non-sense type skits cooked up for the evening.

Memories were the key to Common Clay — a syncopated court room scene which resulted in the defendant, the judge, the witness and the defendant's wife discovering that they are long lost relations.

The play ended with that increasingly famous song "We Really Moved Our Tails For You."

Ballads, popular songs, and original medleys were all a part of the Third Annual Pop Choral festival, held on February 3, 1974. Mr. Robert Babko, Hart's choral director and host for the festival, arranged for seven schools from the Southern California area to attend.

The schools performing in the musical day were: Whittier High School, Whittier; Dos Pueblos High School, Santa Barbara; Sweetwater High School, National City; West Torrance High School, Torrance; Arcadia High School, Arcadia; Van Nuys High School, Van Nuys; and Canyon High School, Canyon Country.

The judges for the day were Randy Joyce and Jack Halloran. Both have been involved in the musical direction for shows such as the Dean Martin Show. Ushers for the event were members of Hart's Concert Choir and Advanced Girls Choir.

Pure ingenuity, casual modes and a little sophistication would describe the mood at the Twenty-Sixth Annual Mother-Daughter Tea and Fashion Show, held in the Hart cafeteria on May 23, 1974.

To brighten the day, the fashion show presented a variety of styles, colors, and forms of apparel. Miss Eileen Scates and Miss Susan Moreland, commentators, announced the girls from Mrs. Aileen Walker's classes who had made and modeled their garments.

The highlight of the day was the presentation of the Girl of the Year award by Ms. Ronni Melnikoff, sponsor of Girls League. Of all the girls of the month, Miss Citizenship, Vicki Austin, was selected. The decision was the result of a teacher vote.

Mrs. Evie Gilmore's and Mrs. Louise Hedges' classes provided an assortment of breads, cookies, and pastries which was served with tea, coffee, or punch. Musical arrangements were furnished by members of the orchestra, under the direction of Lance Hagler.

Outstanding gals displayed their smiles and personalities at the Mother-Daughter Tea as they anxiously awaited the announcement of the Girl of the Year. Selected by the girls on campus for their representation of certain personality traits, ten girls, one for each school month, were submitted to the staff for the election of the Girl of the Year Award.

This annual awarding of recognition for outstanding girls on campus is sponsored by Girls League. They submitted the initial nominations to the students, and organized the tea, which is the culmination of the event. At the 27th Annual Tea, each girl of the month was presented with a pastel nosegay. The Girl of the Year received special acclaim and a nosegay.

This year the award was presented to Miss Vicki Austin, who has been outstanding in many areas of service and scholarship during her three years at Hart.

Anxiety, tears, apprehension, and pride marked the graduation of the Class of 1974. On Thursday evening, June 13, families, friends, and staff gathered on the football field to witness the matriculation of some 510 seniors.

Speakers Laura Diaz and Dan Selmser reminded the graduates that this was not only an end, but a beginning; that graduates of today face the same fears, challenges and rewards, as graduates of the past. The setting may change, but the basics are the same.

Thanks and appreciation were expressed for help and support through the years — from teachers, to friends, to parents. The smiles and tears of joy were signs of pride as parents watched their children join them as adults in the world of today.

Our last is our best was the senior class attitude as they began in September to make the Class of '74 rule. Under the direction of Mr. Doug Worley, advisor, the officers organized a series of activities that would help promote school spirit, class pride, and bring the seniors closer together.

Beginning with the first rally of the year, and culminating with the graduation exercises and grad nite, the vastly different individuals making up the class of '74 combined their efforts and talents to create cheers, floats, fund raising activities, and much more. The senior gift, a sun dial in memory of the late Ms. Dolores Prenn, will long stand as a memory of the class of '74 as well.

Obnoxious and active Juniors arranged to take over the entire student body. Working tediously and rather rapidly, the Junior class achieved second place in the annual football homecoming float competition. Another major accomplishment was the planning of the Junior-Senior Prom. "We've Only Just Begun," which was held at the exotic Busch Gardens.

Under the direction of Mr. Dave Sholl, the officers led the Junior class in the sale of suckers, "75 Rules" buttons, and sponsoring an after the game dance.

Enthusiasm and painstaking efforts to win the float competition marked the participation of the sophomore class in their first Hart homecoming. Interested students met at the home of Liz Savage to construct their first float, with the help of Debi Read, Committee Chairman.

The class of '76 worked hard to make their sophomore year fun and fulfilling, led by class officers, Becca Clark, president; Michelle Forcey, vice president; Holly Long, treasurer; Liz Savage, secretary; Debi Read, representative from Placerita; and Tami Funk, representative from Arroyo Seco.

With the help of sophomore officers, it was made possible, for the first time in Hart's history, for the sophomores to purchase their class rings during their first year at Hart.

The System

Working for new facilities and developing rapport with the students was just a small part of the goals set forth by this year's administration. Direction for Hart, and the district as a whole, came from the Board.

Principal Daniel Hanigan, transferred to Hart from Sierra Vista Junior High this year, led the way for the Hart campus. Passage of the proposition on the June 4 ballot started the ball rolling toward rebuilding the older sections of the campus. Mr. Hanigan, as well as the students, staff, and interested community members, was most pleased with the outcome of the election. The actual building is scheduled to begin in 1975.

Mr. Hanigan worked closely with other members of the administration to develop a smooth running plant, geared to meet student needs. Mr. Lew White, vice principal, worked long, hard hours in scheduling events, and heading the organization of buildings and grounds work.

Three new deans were seen on the Hart Campus this year. Mr. Bill Beauer, Dean of Boys, Mrs. Ruth Port, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Ben Greene, Dean of Activities, joined forces with Mr. White and Mr. Hanigan to work toward aiding students with their problems.

Mrs. Joyce Searby was Head Counselor, and with Mr. Ed Murdock, Mr. Gerald Thon, Mrs. Lucie Rea, and Mr. Bob Henricks, a new counselor, helped students select proper classes and plan for their future.

Exploration of past generations was the topic for students of American Studies IA and IB. Students were able to comprehend more clearly, through investigations, research, and examinations, why we, as a nation, think, believe, and act as we do today.

The department chairman was Mr. Dean Roland, who taught Twentieth Century Wars and American Studies. These classes told how restless, ambitious, liberty-loving Europeans and their descendants built a new and better way of life in a new land, and became one of the most powerful and influential nations in the world.

The Social Studies Department consisted of classes in history, government, economics, and sociology. These classes helped to lay the foundation for an appreciation of America's heritage and destiny.

symbolized the course offerings of Hart's Science Department. Additions to the staff were Mr. Jan Tavares and Mr. Michael Glahn.

Multi-science was offered to juniors and seniors who had to satisfy the one year science requirement for graduation. The course was divided into four areas: aviation, physics, physiology, and chemistry, each taught by a different instructor.

For college-bound students, courses in chemistry, biology, and physics were offered. A large percentage of the students enrolled in science courses took Drivers Education and Health.

from the pool on cold mornings as Mrs. Micky Malpasuto's Recreational Games classes worked at developing swimming skills. Other activities shared by these classes were ping-pong and badminton.

Facial day was looked forward to as the girls in Miss Joanne Santarsiere's and Mrs. Coleen Flaherty's class brought their avocados, oatmeal, eggs, and honey to goop on each others faces. They were given tips on good grooming by professional hair stylists, make-up artists, and models.

Sliding in the mud and trying to hold on to the football, the boys in Mr. Fred Crummet's class had more fun getting dirty than making touchdowns.

The P.E. department, with the addition of Mr. John Clark, Mr. Bud Murray and Mrs. Evelyn Gilmore, succeeded in providing students this year with a great variety of classes.

Metric figuring, based on tens instead of ones was introduced in Hart's math classes. As the metric system gained popularity throughout the world, students were given the opportunity of individualized instruction by any of the Math department teachers.

Mr. Robert McElroy, department chairman, led the staff in the developing of courses to meet the needs of students on all levels. Mrs. Nancy Bulgin, a TA last year, returned as a full time staff member. Mr. Donald Lund joined the staff this year also, and Mr. John Clark taught math in addition to his Social Studies classes.

Familiarizing foreign cultures was an integral part of the learning of Spanish and French in the Foreign Language Department. While perfecting communication skills, students examined the people, traditions, and geography of the various countries involved. Guest speakers, culture days, and other interest inspiring activities made the study of a second language more than exercises in grammar and conjugation.

Mr. Billy Hughes was again department chairman, and worked with other teachers, students, and departments to help make the course offerings at Hart varied and useful for students with a wide variety of life-time goals.

Mrs. Maria Carlson, formerly a teacher at Placerita Junior High, was added to the department. Her assignment was Spanish. Mr. James Droz, new to the Social Studies department, helped in the Foreign Language Department by teaching Spanish V.

Dektol, fixer, hypo, and Microdol-X were added to the Industrial Arts Department's vocabulary as Mr. Tony Lovette offered five periods of photography. After a lull of several years, the H-1 darkroom was refurbished and put to use. Mr. Lovette, concerned students, and even Mrs. Lovette worked throughout the summer to prepare the facilities on the limited budget available.

Two teachers were added to the staff of the constantly increasing Industrial Arts department: Mr. Dave Jensen, from Arroyo Seco, taught Auto Shop; and Mr. Gary Born came to the Hart campus at the middle of the year to teach the woodshop classes when Mr. Lynn Lozar moved to the Social Studies Department.

In a reverse of the women's liberation movement, boys on the Hart campus continued to invade the Home Economics Department. The Bachelor Living classes, designed to prepare boys for life alone, continued to be popular. Topics such as money management, and purchasing techniques were covered as boys donned aprons to concoct culinary delights and learned proper acceleration techniques for sewing machines as opposed to four-wheeled machines.

Students, under the direction of Mrs. Louise Hedges, department chairman, toured nursery schools and did field work as aides while enrolled in the Nursery Aide classes. Emphasizing the acquisition of practical skills, students learned to assist in the various phases of nursery school work.

An important occasion for the foods and clothing classes was the annual Mother-Daughter Tea. Sponsored by Girls League, the spring event gave students a chance to display their cooking and sewing skills.

Individual experiences in business and industrial arts were keys to programs at Hart this year. Under the direction of Ms. Theresa Sam, Work Experience Coordinator, students participated in a vocational education program composed of classes and on-the-job experiences. Help, and invaluable assistance came from Mrs. Frances Walters, Business Department chairman, and numerous members of the business community

Mrs. Audree Beman's program was short-termed, geared to phasing students back into the regular education program on a full-time basis. Students took one to three periods each day with Mrs. Beman, and filled the remainder of their schedule with regular classes.

Mr. Karl Keller's program was designed to help students adjust to the educational system.

Get what you pay for, watch what you buy, and use your money wisely was the recommendation of the Consumer Economics class. Under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Leathers, a new teacher, but not new to the Business Department, this class set up a Student Consumer Information Bureau. This group helped students deal with a wide variety of problems, from greasy foods to faulty equipment.

The Business Education Digest, first published in January, was sent out to parents in an effort to make the community more aware of the many services rendered by the Business Department for the students of Hart. The paper was written, typed, set and run on campus, as an example of the type of work Hart High students and teachers can produce.

Office Job Training, Office Practice, and Stenotyping were just a few of the many new opportunities offered to students. Mrs. Frances Walters, department chairman, with her dedicated staff of teachers, worked hard to develop a program that would benefit students by preparing them with saleable skills upon completion of their high school education.

Perfection, satisfaction and pleasure were the results of numerous hours of hard work by both students and teachers in the Fine Arts Department. Under the direction of Robert Babko, Department Chairman, classes in drama, choral groups, band, orchestra, crafts, and drawing were provided to "round out" a student's high school career. The instrumental groups, under the baton of Mr. Larry "Uncle Larry" Thornton, maintained the high standards set in past years. The added support of the Band Boosters, a group formed by interested parents, helped lend that something extra to game and parade performances.

Darkness and low temperatures greeted Chieftain and Vocal Ensemble members as they gathered at 7 a.m. for the early bird classes. However, it was worth it all, according to those involved, when the applause brought down the final curtain.

Stressing individual talent and the development of creative ideas, Mr. Dave Sholl and Miss Marianne Guho worked side by side with students in a wide variety of art classes. Enthusiasm was the key, and all over the campus, rings were being polished, people sketched, or some other art form was pursued.

Three productions came out of the drama classes, "You Can't Take It With You," "Trojan Women," and the traditional "Hartburns" were presented to anxious audiences. Added extras included a presentation of the Senior Quad of the one act play, "The Lottery," performed by the advanced drama class.

Experiences that stimulated communication were the basis of English department classes. Each of the many courses offered was designed to meet the specific needs and interests of students on all levels. Under the direction of Ms. Dolores Prenn, department chairman, the English department strove to help students develop basic communication skills and enrich their lives through exposure to the products of hundreds of years of creative thought.

Several classes were added to the curriculum in an effort to increase students' awareness of the varied types of writing and a world greater than their own. These were: Mass Media, Poetry, and Comparative World Literature. While Mass Media was concerned with newspapers, television, movies, and books as forms of communication, the other two classes studied a wide span of poets and authors, providing an excellent basis for discussion.

At the time of Ms. Prenn's unfortunate death in February, it became necessary to appoint a new department chairman. Mr. Doug Worley was elected to the position and aided the staff in maintaining the high caliber of studies for which Ms. Prenn had so diligently labored. At this time Mrs. Bernice Shaeffer, a former substitute, was drawn into the department to continue the teaching of Ms. Prenn's classes.

Mrs. Tana Kerr — Library Aide
Mr. Steve Spraker — Drivers Training

their books behind as they took to the wheel in Drivers Training. One of the more popular classes on campus, as it is required to get a pink slip from the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Driver Education sequence was full all year.

The student first takes Drivers Education, the book part of the course, then moves on to the Simulators, under the direction of Mr. Richard Kilgore. The final phase is in-the-car Drivers Training, where students are given the opportunity to exhibit their skills under actual driving conditions.

The teaching staff for this sequence included: Mr. Fran Wrage, Mr. Jerry Bartak, Mr. Alan Gilreath, and Mr. Steve Spraker. Their nerves of steel and extreme patience were valuable assets to their assignment.

Giving students an atmosphere conducive to study was only one part of the librarian's responsibility. Mrs. Therese Kay, assisted by Mrs. Ruby McElroy, and aides Mrs. Tana Kerr and Mrs. Dody Crawford, worked hard to improve the quality and quantity of materials available to the students.

New students were given introductory instruction in the use of the library, and other classes were assisted with research and extra credit projects. During the weeks preceding finals, tables were put in the patio area so students could talk quietly while studying. The library itself became a very quiet study area for serious students.

Gastronomical improvements were part of the 1974 Indian year. After many students' complaints, and much comparison study, the Vencoa Co. issued improved quality food, which served to increase student morale around the noon hour.

Each year many people service the school in ways that are basic to its smooth running. They seldom are recognized. But, just ask any teacher or administrator where Hart would be without its custodial staff. This year Ray Toscano, formerly of Placerita Jr. High, joined the Hart staff as head custodian. Along with his staff, he worked to keep a rather failing, physically, school functioning as well as possible.

The office of Hart High was graced with the smiling faces and pleasant manners of numerous secretaries who assumed a variety of roles, from stenographer to file clerk, to registrar. New in this area was Mrs. Joan Pringle, who replaced Mrs. Mary Jean Blocher as secretary to the vice principal.

Ardent, zealous, energetic, and hearty support for all sports was the Spirit Squad motto. To finance their spirit inspiring activities the girls sold buttons, candy, popcorn, and rooter pom poms.

Although small in number, there were eight girls on the squad, their work was seen everywhere. Posters advertising each event, with special messages for some participants, mysteriously appeared at the proper time.

Each year Spirit Squad, under the direction of Miss Diana Lee, sponsors two major events: Basketball Homecoming, better known as Hoop-de-la, and Sprolic Week. Hoop-de-la was a day full of spirit. It began with a rally, continued through the basketball game, reached a high point with the announcement of Debbie Nembach as queen, and concluded with a well-attended dance.

Sprolic came just as the springtime dulls started to settle in. The week of fun-filled activities was climaxed on Friday, May 3 with a carnival. Various clubs and organizations were invited to set up booths and were able to use this opportunity to raise funds for their own projects.

Each girl held an office in the group. They were: Susan Moreland, president; Denelle Jinks, vice president; Vicki Austin, secretary; Nancy Therasse, treasurer; Melinda Reiber, business manager; Patty Bond, activities chairman; and Susie Leathers, publicity chairman.

was a new and uproariously funny routine performed by the Drill Team. Praise and pride were only a few of the several terms to define this year's group of remarkable young ladies.

The Drill Team entertained at all home football game half-times, pre-game shows at away games, and various basketball halftimes. The girls also marched in the annual Newhall Christmas Parade. Drill Team is a service organization. Their services included assisting straying students during registration and serving refreshments at TBA.

A division of Drill Team is the popular Small Precision group selected every January. These eight girls are chosen to perform in competition at the Arroyo High School Festival, the Saddleback High School, and the State Festival.

Mrs. Pat Cheek again advised both groups and, with the help of co-captains Sue See and Cindi Weaver, saw them achieve a high standard of performance.

Underground plans for secret events resulted in special attention for the various athletic teams during the year. Boxes of goodies, mysterious notes, bow ties, baked goods, and boutonnieres were just a few of the gifts the 1974 Pep Squad used to carry out their goal of full support for all teams.

Work, in the form of many long, hard hours of practice, was also a vital part of the Pep Squad's activities. Under the direction of a new sponsor, Mrs. Micky Malpasuto, the girls began developing routines shortly after their selection in the spring of 1973. The result was a series of sharp, snappy routines at the first rally of the year. Each game and rally added skill and ease to the overall quality of the Pep Squad show.

Their efforts were acknowledged by the Quarterback Club in the form of a special award at the Football Banquet. Spirit Squad, another pep-inspiring group, gave a kidnap breakfast for the girls.

Combining wits laughter and attainments presented a means by which work was achieved yet humor and fun were not forgotten. The varied groups of Clod Squad, Letterman, and Mascot, although different in name, strove to better Hart in their own particular manner.

Clod Squad featured the antics of 1950's cheerleaders, Lori Amendt, Linda Dutro, and Renee Sauve. They swang and moved in such a fashion that they continually sparked laughter at pep rallies. These shapely Hart High supporters devised their own skits and were an asset to the comic portions of the rallies.

Mascot Michele Woods, with her zealous personality, was inspiring as leader of spirit and promoter of pride within the school. She diligently planned rallies, practiced regularly and strove to maintain a high caliber of sportsmanship among the student body.

Letterman are not to be excluded from these groups of buffoon-like workers. They too sponsored several worthwhile activities throughout the year. The Tim Richardson Dance was given in an effort to provide funds for a Crescenta Valley student. Earlier in the season one of their players was severely injured. They also sponsored the wrestling team's trip to league finals and were the masterminds behind the delightful Donkey Basketball Game.

went wherever the various instrumental groups performed. Leading the way at the various parades and during halftime shows, were the flag girls.

The orchestra, the Braves, and the Chieftains were all under the direction of Mr. Larry Thornton. Mr. Thornton was also very instrumental in establishing the flag girls, who so quickly have become a part of Hart's tradition.

Joyful singing of exquisite music, old and new was the finished product achieved by the professional vocal groups at Hart. These groups, under the direction of Mr. Robert Babko, met daily and spent many hours in preparation for their performances and competitions. They sang a variety of songs, both old classic melodies also contemporary music. They were a delight providing entertainment several times throughout the year. They performed not only at the Winter Choral Concert, but also the Spring Choral Festival. All of the groups, Vocal Ensemble, Concert Choir, Girls Chorus, and Mixed Chorus did an outstanding job of performing and perfecting their musical skill.

Thinking, typing and designing layouts kept the Smoke Signal staff very busy this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Julie Goodman, the staff worked hard to produce the school paper.

The editions were 8½" by 11" and consisted of four to six pages. The paper was divided into four sections. They were news, editorials, features, and sports. This year's Smoke Signal was printed on campus on an offset printing press by Mr. John Garner's Graphic Arts classes.

The page editors were John Drew, Carl Heintz, Lee Fout, and Lance Hagler. Business Manager was John Drew. Pictures were donated by Corni Ramigani, Lance Hagler, and Susan Henley. Copy Editor was Jean Dickinson first semester and Kathy Gordon second semester. Managing Editor was Jean Dickinson. The position of editor-in-chief was passed around to give several students the opportunity to experience the rewards and pressures of such a vital job. Editors included: Priscilla Each, Jean Dickinson, Lauri DeVries, and John Drew.

Music for kings, living, and general entertainment was provided by Hart's own radio station, KFSR. Noon movies, such as the Poseidon Adventure, 2001 A Space Odyssey, and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, earned money to re-establish KFSR.

Advisor, Mr. Al Hanson helped students in their endeavor under the direction of officers Gary Platak, president; Mike McGuire, vice-president; Dusty Atkins, Head of Disc Jockeys; and Jeff Hopkins, Head of Technicians.

Mr. Tony Grande advised Scuba Club with Marc West, president; Teri Taylor, vice-president; Marianne Homenick and Denise Hurd, secretaries; and Paul Wenzel, Dive Master. The Scuba Club's main goal was to get people to obtain their scuba diving license. The club organized outside activities for certified divers. Their activities consisted of beach dives, boat dives, and Catalina trips.

Referee Mr. Jan Tavares had the say in The First All Hart Faculty-Student Chess Tournament. Mr. Tony Grande and Mike Goddard competed very tensely for the championship. Their last move determined the winner — Mike Goddard.

Scholastic, cultural, and spiritual achievements were the main goals of the California Scholarship Federation, the American Field Service, and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, respectively.

As in the past, the California Scholarship Federation was guided by counselor Mrs. Lucie Rea. They sold fruitcakes to raise monies for the Hart Scholarship Federation scholarships.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a non-denominational organization advised by Mr. Ed Murdock. It was open to all who were interested, both male and female. Guest speakers were very much a part of the FCA program, giving the members a chance to learn by comparing their thoughts and beliefs with those of others.

The American Field Service worked to make funds available for the exchange student program. This student branch of a much larger adult national group is concerned with the sharing of culture, ideas, and friendship through the exchange of students between countries. They were sponsored by Mr. Lynn Lozar.

It's the water and a lot more stated the marquis donated by the Class of '73 in an effort to call attention to the water polo season. This was just one of the year long tasks of the Executive Board.

New to Hart this year was Mr. Ben Greene, Dean of Activities, and sponsor of Executive Board. Working with two executive boards, Mr. Greene strove to make the new ASB constitution an easily workable part of student life.

This year Hart had two boards due to the new constitution which calls for the election of officers in January. This allows for greater carry-over between school years.

The Executive Board met every day during second period to conduct the necessary business of the ASB. They planned fund raising activities, spirit promoting events, and coordinated all other on-campus activities. They gained knowledge and experience in business matters through the developing of the ASB budget, and the use of Parliamentary Procedure to conduct their meetings.

Communication, argumentation and service were the aims of some of Hart's organizations. The Girls League, which sponsored the Winter Formal, the Sprolic Cake Walk, The Mother-Daughter-Tea, and the Girls of the Month, was dedicated to service.

Advised by Ms. Ronni Melnikoff, this year's officers were: Carol Peralta, president; Wendy Peters, vice president; Renee Sauve, secretary; Diana Shirey, treasurer; and Debbie Schultz, publicity.

The French Club celebrated the major French Holidays at their Monday meetings. The biggest event of their year was the French dinner at which members were treated to the gourmet cooking of sponsor Mr. Billy Hughes.

The Debate Team went to six Southern California Forensic Association league meets, winning certificates for superiority and excellence in debate. Officers this year were Melinda Reiber, president; who received outstanding debater of the year, Sam Greengard, vice president, and Anita Turrentine, secretary, who was the most improved debater. Also on the team, coached by Richard Weekley, was Bob Winsinger.

Communicating with students was the main purpose of the House of Representatives. These students discussed various ASB activities and, with the help of Mr. Ben Greene, were able to make many favorable changes at their bi-weekly meetings, held in the auditorium.

Enchiladas, tacos, and burritos invaded the Senior Lawn as the Latinos Unidos held a food sale. Offering excellent, home cooked food at reasonable prices, the club took advantage of Sprolic Week to increase their funds.

Under the direction of their officers: Susan Lopez, president; Sharon Carillo, vice president; Tommie O'Banion, secretary; and Pat Mendez, treasurer; the members prepared a wide variety of Latin foods.

With the help of advisor Mr. Gene Lines, the club also held a dance, sold popcorn, and had a car wash.

Seconds tick by as Indian shutterbugs anxiously await their just-developed film. With fixer, D-76, and hypo-clear splashing around the H-1 lab, Photo Club members developed and printed pictures they had taken both on and off campus. With the ever-increasing interest in photography, the growth of the Photo Club was natural. The only necessity for joining the club was a desire to work, and a camera.

Mr. Tony Lovette, the advisor, along with officers: Mark Furniss, president; Dave Bubnash, vice president; Jerry Bronstrup, treasurer; Tony Mattias, public relations; and 26 members, planned field trips to the beach, the mountains, and various shows and workshops. On these picture taking outings, students could be seen snapping away at various angles with everything from a Kodak Instamatic to a 35mm Pentax.

The memories of all these visits and the 1973-74 school year will be more vividly retained through the work of these who captured single moments, frozen on film, for future consideration.

Deadlines, copy, color, picas, and hard work were integral parts of the lives of yearbook staff members every morning during second period in G-2. Such events as selling ads on rainy days, picture sales, cotton candy sales, and a bake sale on the senior lawn, helped to make the money needed for the addition of color and special effects to the 1974 Tomahawk.

Anacin, Ban, Colgate, and a burnt bra where among the 300 plus items buried in the Hart High time capsule on June 1, 1974 at noon at the Santa Clarita Valley Civic Center. Inspired by a similar project at Montebello High School, students in Ms. Rochelle Thomas' sociology classes decided to preserve part of the present for the future. The idea snowballed into reality as the burial day neared.

The initial problem of a container was solved with the donation of a casket by Eternal Valley Mortuary. Next came the gathering of items typical of today. Students, teachers, and other interested persons were given the opportunity to contribute to the capsule's contents. A wide variety of items were collected, including: magazines, newspapers, catalogues, pennies, pictures, clothing, report cards, birth control pills, a marijuana leaf encased in resin, and student letters.

Help with the project came from many quarters. Mr. Dean Roland, Social Studies Department chairman; Mr. Dan Hanigan, principal; and Supervisor Baxter Ward were responsible for granting the necessary project approval. Mr. Paul Shepard from the Southern California Gas Company provided information and assistance in the prevention of corrosion. Mr. Robert Wuerfel provided transportation for the casket. Mr. Milton Campbell sealed the coffin with silicone provided by National Auto Glass. Finishing touches of a floral spray and tombstone were donated by Rambling Rose Florist and Eternal Valley Mortuary, respectively.

On June 1, 2000 the capsule will be opened. A program from the burial ceremonies will entitle the bearer to an item from the capsule.
